WILL REVOLT AGAINST NIXON.

NEXT PRIMARIES WILL REVEAL REAL LEADER OF TAMMANY.

Croker Can Have the Place If He Wants to Come Home, but He Can't Delegate His Power-Delmour to Fight Carrell for Leadership in the Twenty-ninth.

*We like Brother Nixon personally," said the spokesman of a group of Tammany leaders last night, "but we don't believe it will do him any good to chase around among the districts in an effort to make friends of the leaders. While we are personally friendly to Mr. Croker, we don't believe that Mr. Croker can point his finger at any man and say, 'Here, you fellows, take this man to be leader.' "A Tammany leader is not selected in this fashion. Nixon is a bully good fellow, but we will not accept him as leader because Mr. Croker tells us to do so. Mr. Croker himself was not selected to be leader in this fashion. The idea that Mr. Croker can tell us to make Nixon leader and obey him, and then depart for his home in Wantage and at the same time force Andrew Freedman and a number of other personal friends to be selected by Judge Van Hoesen, in the Fipance Committee, is a very peculiar situation. We will not tolerate it. If Mr. Croker wants to come back to this country we will accept him as leader of Tammany Hall and will be very glad to do so. But Hugh McLaughlin of Brooklyn, the leader of the Democratic party of that place for forty years, cannot make James Shevlin or any other Democrat district leader the leader of the Brooklyn Democracy by the mere rule of say so. Just so with Mr. Croker in New York county." *We will beat Mr. Nixon at every primary in New York city in September next, and we will do this, not because we dislike Mr. Nixon, but because Mr Croker cannot leave for his home in Wantage and direct us, the district leaders of Tammany Hall, to accept a man, who, no matter how kindly and how fine a man he is, has never been a district leader; who never won his spurs as a Tammany leader; who was born in Virginia, and who is simply thrust upon us by Mr. Croker. Mind you, there is nothing unfriendly in these comments against Mr. Nixon except politically, that the thirty-five district leaders who have surrounded Mr. Croker for many years will not permit him to delegate his authority to Mr. Nixon, or Mr. Smith, or Mr. Jones, or Mr. Brown, or to anybody else in his absence. Mr. Nixon may have a pleasant time in visiting the various Tammany organizations in all of the districts, but the fact remains as we tell you-we will, at the proper time, the September primaries, elect our own delegates who will se-

The Hon. Larry Delmour, "Whispering Larry," lives in the Twenty-ninth district, and so does John F. Carroll. "Whispering Larry" has posed as the leader of the Thirtieth district, although Harry C. Hart is the real leader. Now, "Whispering Larry" proposes to make a fight against Carroll for the leadership in the Twentyninth. This trouble promises to be one of the most interesting centests in Tammany Hall at the approaching primaries, six months away.

In the estimation of Tammany leaders ast night, it was about time that "Whispering Larry" was fired out of an eleven-story ilding. Just what Mr. Delmour has done for the Democratic party in advancing is interests in the city, and State, and nation, nobody could answer last night. In a word, he was spoken of as a mere fight between Mr. Delmour and Mr. Carroll for leadership in the Twenty-ninth district will go on, and will be settled at the primaries; and yet the friends of Harry C. Hart of the Thirtieth district have be come a little bit annoyed over the carpetbag leadership of Delmour in the Thirtieth

Yesterday was a feast day in the Sicilian olony in Elizabeth street. . It was the day of Saint Ciro, one of Sicily's favorite saints Perhaps it was only by a coincidence that it was the day chosen by Ciro Raimeri, who sells lemons and gambles, to attempt to kill his young wife, who, like himself was named for the saint Raimeri coaxed his wife to the home from which she had been forced to flee because of his brutality and there stabbed her in the face. neck and body until she was almost beyond recognition. Then, believing her dead, he fled. Last night he was still at liberty. His wife was taken to the hospital so carved up that the doctors say they don't see how

His wife was taken to the hospital so carved up that the doctors say they don't see how she can live.

Raimeri is 30 years old. His wife is 27. According to the story told by their countrymen yesterday Cira did not want to marry Raimeri. He was too ugly. But his stories of his wealth in the New World deceived her parents, and they forced her to marry him. But Raimeri over here was not the same man that he was in Sicily He peddled lemons and gambled with what he earned, so that all he gave his wife for a home was one small room on the top floor of the tall tenement at 238 Elizabeth street. They did not get along well. Raimeri was so ill-looking that his wife refused to walk in the street with him. So brutal did he become that last Monday his wife went to the house of a friend in Cherry street. Their four-year-old child Antonio, she had to leave with his father. From that time, so the neighors said Raimeri planned to kill his wife. Some of them went so far as to warn her to be careful. Yesterday morning, knowing his wife would go to church, Raimeri lay in wait for her He told her he meant to be good and induced her to climb up to their room to continue the talk. There he attacked her with a razor, cutting her repeatedly on the face and neck. When he thought she was dead he went away, locking the door. The child was covered with blood from trying to assist his mother. From him the police got the story of the father's crime.

WOULD BEAUTIFY THE CITY. Fine Arts Federation Suggests Uniformity in Public Improvements.

The Fine Arts Federation sent a communication to Mayor Low yesterday pointing out that many of the improvements suggested in various parts of the city had a tendency to be merely local in their character, thus ignoring the possibility of improvements on a broader scale. The federation requested the Mayor to "refer the matter to the Art Commission with the view of securing its opinion as to the advis-ability of employing a commission of dis-tinguished experts to make a complete study of the whole subject."

tury knee Breeches and Powder, Plays Old Melodies in Sherry's Transformed Ballroom -200 of Society's Elect There

Mr. and Mrs. Trenor L. Park of 446 Madison avenue entertained at Sherry's after the opera last night and the entertainment they gave was decidedly novel. It followed a supper which was served after midnight and at which covers were laid for more than 200 guests.

The entertainment was patterned after an orchestra recital of the eighteenth cenan orchestra recital of the eighteenth cen-tury. The orchestra was Walter Dam-rosch's of more than 100 pieces. David Mannes, Mr. Damrosch's brother-in-law, conducted. David Bispham was the vocalist. It was eighteenth century music that was played and sung and the orchestra wore costumes of that period, knee breeches and powdered wigs.

The entertainment began while the coffee was being served in the large ballroom which had been fitted up to resemble theatre. For supper, the guests sat at tables arrayed in horseshoe shape, one horseshoe outside the other. The chairs were on the outer sides of the tables only, so that all faced the stage. At the corner of the room were stage boxes as at a theatre and some of the guests gathered in there, for the stage was the orchestra and the stage settings carried out the eighteenth century in flowers and tapestries.

These playbills were distributed and the heading amused Mrs. Park's people:

up Discharged by the police court Ruth brought suit for damages against the company and got a judgment for $2,000. The railroad company endeavored to get a new hearing but Judge Ryan to-day refused their prayer. He said:

"There is no such thing, as assumed in the defendant's instructions, as a nickel of less than face value. A gold coin may be worth less than its face value because of abrasion or loss of weight, but this is not true of a nickel. The conductor's rejection of the only piece of money the plaintiff had at the time was wanton and capricious."

FOOTBALL TRAINER IN PLOT?

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 31 .- In the divorce case of Leroy C. Beecher, a wealthy Woodbridge farmer, against Gertrude L. Beecher, in which Wilbur F. Keeler, a trainer of the Princeton football eleven last fall is named as corespondent, there was filed to-day in the Superior Court in this city an answer by the defendant, outlining an alleged conspiracy entered into by the plaintiff and Trainer Keeler.

It is alleged that the plaintiff, to get rid of his wife and keep her away from his home, hired Keeler to act as his agent and travel with his wife, thus forcing Mrs. Beecher to rely for her support on Keeler, who was provided with money by the wealthy farmer for the purpose. Mrs. Beecher further charges that her husband paid Keeler large sums of money with the understanding that Keeler and she should live at Princeton, thus forming a plot that would constitute a basis on which Beecher could sue for divorce.

Mrs. Beecher says that the whole plan conceived by her husband and paid for by him was simply a scheme to place the defendant in such suspicious circumstances as would give color of right in his attempt to rid himself of her.

Mrs. Beecher adds that her husband has been guilty of misconduct with his nurse, Harriet Hard.

OBITUARY.

Aaron Carter of Carter, Howe & Co., manufacturing jewellers, of 9, 11 and 13 Maiden lane, this city, and Park and Mulberry streets, Newark, N. J., died at his home in Orange, N. J., yesterday morning in his eighty-sixth year. He was the son of Caleb and Phoebe Johnson Carter, was born in Newark, and at 15 was indentured to Taylor & Baldwin, the founders of the manufacturing jewelry business in Newark. In 1841, with two young associates, he founded the business with which he has been identified ever since. He was a director of the Newark City National Bank from its organization in 1851, a manager of the Howard Savings Institution since 1866, a director of the Prudential Insurance Company of America since its organization in 1875, a director in the Mutual Fire Insurance Company of New York and a large stockholder in the Bombay, India, Tramway Company, He was a member of the Lawyers' Club of this city, of the New Encland Society of Orange and a trustee of the New Jersey State Industrial School for Girls at Trenton. GRIEF OF THIEVING HUSBAND MOVES JUDGES AND ACCUSER. Mrs. Harmer Takes Poison After Trying in Vain to Save Him-Then the Man He Stele From Withdraws Complaint and Weeping Prisoner Goes Free.

NEW ROCHELLE, Jan. 31 .- Mrs. Nellie Harmer of New Rochelle, whose husband, Edwin H. Harmer, stole $6 from Peter Duryee & Co.'s Greenwich street hardware store, where he was a salesman, committed suicide at her home, 70 North street, this city, to-day, by drinking carbolic acid. In a note which she left, she said: "Heber is in the Tombs. I cannot stand it." There was another letter, addressed to Mrs. Hiram Taylor, with whom the dead woman's aged mother lived, which has not been made public. It is said that Mrs. Harmer went to her husband's employers and pleaded with them to let him off. They told her, it is said, that he had got into difficulties with the firm twice before, but had not been prosecuted because she had had not been prosecuted because she had interceded for him. This time the firm re-fused to pardon him and Mrs. Harmer told her friends that she would kill herself rather than be disgraced.

The complaint against Harmer was withdrawn in the Court of Special Sessions yesterday by Egbert McDowell of the firm of Peter Duryee & Co. While in his cell in the Tombs an undertaker from New Rochelle brought Harmer word of his wife's suicide. He went almost beside himself with grief, and the prison chaplain offered his help. He saw McDowell with the result that he was taken to court and pleaded guilty. He was weeping when pleaded guilty. He was weeping when

SANDBAG KILLED HIM?

Man Police Locked Up as Drunk Dies With man whom the police of the Hamourg avenue station, Williamsburg, locked up on the supposition that he was drunk on Wednesday night and who was found insensible from apoplexy early on Thursday morning and taken to the German Hospital, died there yesterday without regaining consciousness. He was iden-tified as Henry Wallace, aged 40, of Maspeth, L. I. He had a wife and two children and was foreman in a lumber yard on Newtown Creek. Coroner's Physician Wuest, performed an autopsy last night and found that Wal-lace's skull was fractured on the inside in the left temporal region. The doctors think that Wallace may have been sand-bagged. Coroner Williams directed the police to investigate. Wallace was also suffering from apoplexy when brought to the hospital.
